Frolic filled with fun for the whole family

Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club's Halloween Family Frolic was fun for all ages, with everyone from tots to teens to parents and grandparents getting out on the dance floor and enjoying lively music that ranged from the Macarena and line dancing to the Cotton Eyed Joe, imaginative costumes, spooky decorations and visits from Sprinkles the Clown and a gypsy fortune teller added to the fun.

Close race for reeve candidates

By JANICE HUSER

Review Contributor

It was a race to the finish for the County of St. Paul municipal election on Oct. 21. But after the final count, and subsequent recount, came in, it was incumbent Steve Upham who took back the position of reeve.

At one point, as polling stations were calling in their numbers on Oct. 21, only five votes separated candidates Ray Danyluk and Upham, with Danyluk leading the way. Then, with just two polling stations left, Upham took the lead and held on.

The final count for Reeve at Large was Upham at 1,104 votes; Danyluk at 1,062; and Ben Dyck at 209. A recount was done later in the week, after it was found that one of the polling stations did not fill out the paperwork correctly, but the results remained the same.

"I called for a recount due to a possible administrative error in one of the polling stations," said the County of St. Paul's returning officer Calvin Leckie, following the recount. He added that because the results were close, "it was decided to recount all ballots from all polling stations."

The only change in numbers was a slight variation in the number of votes counted for Division 5. The final vote kept incumbent Frank Sloan in the lead, with 343 votes. Candidate Donna Hanson finished with 226 votes.

In Division 4, incumbent Maxine Fodness also kept her seat on council with a total of 343 votes. Candidate Dave Neary had 112 votes.

First-time candidates elected to town council

Two newcomers will join two incumbent councillors and Mayor Parrish Tung, reelected by acclamation, around Elk Point's town council table for the next four years, following the Oct. 21 municipal election.

First-time candidates Lorne Young and Debra McQuinn collected the most votes at the poll, with 257 votes for Young and 207 for McQuinn, while incumbents Dwayne Yaremkevich and Bernice Capjack, collected 198 votes and 178 votes respectively to win another term on council.

Young was also elected to the school board.

Incumbents Eugene Buck, with 107 votes, and Ron Fraess, with 72 votes, were defeated, along with previous councillors Dick Millar, 149 votes, and Lawrence Pidluzny, 116 votes, and first-time contenders Bernadette Godlien and Coral Kratchmer, who collected 52 and 24 votes respectively.

"Obviously, the residents have chosen wisely," Mayor Tung said. "I think the four most qualified candidates got elected. I am looking forward to four years with a great council to work with."

Author visit Nov. 5

By JANICE HUSER
Review Contributor

St. Paul author Eileen Schuh has started a 23-stop library tour across Alberta's northeast and will make her way to the Elk Point and St. Paul libraries in November.

The tour is sponsored by Northern Lights Library System and began on Oct. 21 in Myram. Her tour will take her across the NLLS and will end in Cold Lake on Nov. 26.

Although Schuh says she is looking forward to all her library visits, she is especially excited to speak in Tofield on Nov. 7.

"I was born and raised as Eileen Fairbrother in the Tofield area and returned there for a few years after I was married," she says, in a press release about the library tour. "Since I was first published in 2011, I've wanted to go back to my home town and thank the community for nourishing my writing dreams and skills."

She will then be in Elk Point on Nov. 5, followed by a trip to Two Hills School on Nov. 6 for a writing workshop. Schuh will also stop at the St. Paul Municipal Library on Nov. 12 at 5 p.m.

Schuh will wrap up her library touch near the end of November after visiting the Lac La Biche area, Vermilion, and Cold Lake.

Schuh is writes science fiction and has two young adult novels published, The Traz and Fatal Error. She also has an adult science fiction novel published called Schrodinger's Cat.

In by acclamation were: Division 1 Coun. Glen Ockerman; Division 2 Coun. Dwight Dach, Division 3 Coun. Cliff Martin; and the county's newest member Division 6 Coun. Laurent Amyotte.

Voter turnout for the 2013 municipal election with the County of St. Paul was 51 per cent.

"It's a good feeling," said Upham, following the recount. He adds that last term, winning his seat as reeve was a win for the community, whereas this time it felt more like "a personal win."

Only 42 votes separated Upham and Danyluk, and according to the voting results, much of Danyluk's support came from the east part of the county. Upham says that because both councillors in Division 1 and 2 were acclaimed, he believes ratepayers must still be happy with how the county is doing things.

Upham says he is looking forward to continuing work on major projects, such as the Elk Point/St. Paul waterline, and a proposed Ashmont/St. Paul waterline.

Catching up on road projects that were not completed this year will also be a priority moving forward, says Upham. Overall, he says he is looking forward to helping direct the County of St. Paul with a long-term vision.

Results

Polling station results show a close race between Upham and Danyluk. Advance polls in Elk Point were in favour of Danyluk, while advance polls in St. Paul were slightly in favour of Upham.

The Boscombe polling station saw Upham garner a few more votes than Danyluk, and the Boyne Lake polling station also saw Upham garner the majority of the votes in that area. Cork Hall saw Upham get double the number of votes as Danyluk.

On the east side of the county, the Elk Point Seniors Centre station showed an overwhelming support for Danyluk, who received 222 votes in that station, compared to Upham's 60 votes.

Ferguson Flats, where Danyluk had 65 votes compared to 14 for Upham, Heinsburg Seniors Centre, with 69 for Danyluk, 15 for Upham, Lac Bellevue Hall, with 65 for Danyluk and 57 for Upham and Stoney Lake, with 35 for Danyluk and eight for Upham, also saw Danyluk garner more support than Upham.

Support for Upham was shown at the Mallaig Seniors Centre, with Upham receiving 84 votes to Danyluk's 41 votes. McRae also voted in favour of Upham, and St. Lina Hall gave Upham another push with 106 votes to Danyluk's 23. St. Vincent also saw Upham with more votes than Danyluk.

With Danyluk ahead by 62 votes, it was the last two polling stations to be called in on Monday night that made the difference. The St. Paul Legion station called in with 266 votes for Danyluk and 319 for Upham.

And with only nine votes separating the two candidates, the Ashmont Legion polling station pushed Upham ahead, with 113 votes, to Danyluk's 62, resulting in a difference of only 42 votes.

Novice teams win three

Last summer, Hockey Canada removed checking from peewee hockey. I had my opinion on the whole thing; but maybe I should wait until later this year, see how it affects the game before I totally pass judgment. Because, on the positive side of things, if Saturday was any indication, it appears to be a much faster game, with fewer stoppages in play and for sure more room for the skilled players to develop.

Our Peewee Avalanche, coached by Dave Nazarchuk, lost their home opener 6 to 2 to a much bigger Bonnyville team, but without body checking, that shouldn't be a factor. Although, I did notice some players still appeared a little hesitant to forecheck any of the bigger Pontiacs players. And the second year peewee players will need a bit of time to make an adjustment; they had trouble backing off on the body checks since they were subject to checking already last year. Dylan "the Destroyer" Ference who celebrated his birthday yesterday, scoring the first one half way through the game assisted by Devon "Naz" Nazarchuk, defenseman Hayden "Hot Wheels" Ludlage going end to end scoring with only 30 seconds left in the game. On Sunday the peewee team had a huge win 15 to 2 win over Pierceland at home. Everyone on the team contributed in this one.

Earlier in the day, the Novice team coached by James Capjack came up with a big 14 to 1 win over Cold Lake. Hat trick for "Mic Jager" Fontaine, plus two assists, hat trick for "the Spiderman" Sam Rogal, plus two assists, "Dean the Machine" Ockerman with a hat trick and one assist, two goals for Mason Youngchief, singles for "Bazooka Joe" Cardinal, CeeJay Quinney Cardinal and, playing in his first game and scoring his first career goal, Ethan Cassel-Wasson, who also assisted on one. Solid stay at home defenseman Cash "CC" Capjack with two helpers. His defensive partner, Josef Theriault, doing a super job shutting down the offence on the blue line and helping out his young rookie goaltender Kade Fontaine, who looked very confident between the pipes. On Sunday the same novice team traveled to Bonnyville, winning this one 7 to 3. A hat trick for "Mic Jager", whose father Shane is one of the assistant coaches. "Dean the Machine" and "CC" with a goal each; and d-man Josef Theriault scoring his goal ever.

On Sunday, the other novice team coached by Robyn Moroziuk played St. Paul at home, winning 9 to 1. Hat trick for Luke "Skywalker" Poulin, plus two assists, three big ones for "King Kong Konnor" Poitras, "Amazing Grace" Peebles with a goal and an assist, Rylee "the Roadrunner" Warawa with a goal and two helpers, Vanden "Mario" Moroziuk with a single. The "Mighty Casey" Warawa with two assists, and first time player Seth Morton digging in the corners with an assist.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "Every day is a great day for hockey" Last week's answer to: "They say you're not a coach in the league until you've been fired. I must be getting pretty good." - Terry Simpson. Have a sports scoop? Please email them to sportshound007@hotmail.com

- During a stay in hospital, your medications may be changed and some older medications may be stopped. It's important to be sure to not take these medications when you get home. Part of our job as your pharmacist is to be a final check to ensure this transition from hospital to home occurs smoothly.
- Many admissions to hospital are due to a medication problem...not taking them properly, taking too much or too little or due to a drug interaction. Having a complete record of your medications helps us to ensure you're taking your medications correctly and safely.
- A vasectomy is still one of the best birth control methods. A minor operation using a local anaesthetic, it involves severing the tubes that carry sperm from the testes to the penis. The operation doesn't result in immediate sterility so alternate birth control methods should still be used. No sexual difficulties result from the operation however it doesn't protect against sexually-transmitted diseases.
- We've mentioned the "polypill" in this column in the past. It's a drug delivery system that combines 4 drugs in one pill for patients with heart disease. The pill contains ASA, a cholesterol-lowering drug and one or two blood pressure-lowering drugs. It's a way of ensuring the patient gets all the medication needed to reduce the risk of heart attack and stroke. Not on the market yet, but perhaps soon.
- Understanding how a drug works and its importance to your health will help you remember to take them correctly. We can help.

Hard choices

You can never tell about municipal elections. Sometimes there are enough candidates to hold an election, sometimes only enough candidates coming forth to fill the positions, and once in a while, so few that a second call for nominations must go out. This time, Elk Point's voters had 10 candidates to choose from to fill four seats.

The voters heard the platforms, they made their choices, and no doubt some wished they could choose more than four from the long list of talented people who were willing to share their expertise on council.

As in any race, some are successful and some are not. Thanks to those who didn't make it this time, for offering their talents, and congratulations to those who were successful, our leaders for the next four years.

Re-election, senior-friendly. new Zamboni

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND THE ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF OCT. 29 IN...

1988

Jackie Gulayec received the award for the Best All-Around Student from Dr. K. C. Miller at the F. G Miller High School awards night, where Ken Hanson won the Kates Memorial Award and Corey Blize the Dr. Bruce Kleeberger Citizenship Award. Elk Point would have a new mayor and a full slate of councillors before Christmas, as council voted to hold a by-election to fill vacancies left by the resignation of Mayor Byron Mann and earlier councillor resignations.

1993

Deborah Grey became the Reform Party's first re-elected member when she captured 58 per cent of the vote in the federal election, with the party's candidates leading or elected in 51 other ridings across the country at press time. Elk Point Municipal Hospital received its third consecutive three-year accreditation from the Canadian Council on Health Facilities.

1998

Elk Point Interagency Health Committee planned a promotional campaign to increase use of the Elk Point Health Centre by encouraging local residents to seek health care at home rather than going out of town. Donna Chamberland of the Alberta Council on Aging gave the chamber of commerce a "Senior Friendly Challenge" to make businesses think of ways to better serve the senior residents of the community.

2003

Despite rumours to the contrary, Elk Point Elementary School continued to be available for community use, provided that use did not interfere with educational delivery to students, Principal Lorne Young said. The cost of implementing 95 recommendations in the final report of the Alberta Commission on Learning would total over $5 billion, MLA Ray Danyluk told constituents at a meeting in St. Paul.

2008

The vital parts of a big project came together at A. G. Ross Arena as contributors and the fundraising committee gathered to celebrate the results of their efforts: a brand new Zamboni emblazoned with the Avalanche logo. Elk Point's planned EcoCentre was "all about the community," said Minister of Municipal Affairs Ray Danyluk as he presented a cheque for $182,906 to Mayor Parrish Tung and Chamber of Commerce vice president Lesia Porcina for the project.

GUEST COLUMN

Halloween

Halloween is the one of the oldest holidays still celebrated today. It's one of the most popular holidays, second only to Christmas. While millions of people celebrate Halloween without knowing its origins and myths, the history and facts of Halloween make the holiday more fascinating.

Some people view Halloween as a time for fun, putting on costumes, trick-or-treating, and having theme parties. Others view it as a time of superstitions, ghosts, goblins and evil spirits that should be avoided at all costs.

Halloween is on Oct. 31, the last day of the Celtic calendar. It was originally a pagan holiday, honoring the dead. Halloween was referred to as All Hallows Eve and dates back to over 2000 years ago. All Hallows Eve is the evening before All Saints Day, which was created by Christians to convert pagans, and is celebrated on Nov. 1. The Catholic Church honored saints on this designated day.

Halloween culture can be traced back to the Druids, a Celtic culture in Ireland, Britain and northern Europe. Roots lay in the feast of Samhain, which was annually on Oct. 31 to honor the dead. Samhain signifies "summers end" or November. Samhain was a harvest festival with huge sacred bonfires, marking the end of the Celtic year and beginning of a new one. Many of the practices involved in this celebration were fed on superstition. Often, sacrifices were made to Samhain, the Lord of the dead in order to satisfy him. The Celts believed the souls of the dead roamed the streets and villages at night. Since not all spirits were thought to be friendly, gifts and treats were left out to pacify the evil and ensure next years crops would be plentiful. This custom evolved into trick-or-treating.

Of course Halloween wouldn't be Halloween without superstitions and bad luck omens. Black Cats have long been believed to be a supernatural omen since the witch hunts of the middle ages when cats were thought to be connected to evil. Since then, it is considered bad luck if a black cat crosses your path. Broken Mirrors. An ancient myth our ancestors believed was that the image in a mirror is our actual soul. A broken mirror represented the soul being astray from your body. To break the spell of misfortune, you must wait seven hours (one for each year of bad luck) before picking up the broken pieces, and bury them outside in the moonlight. Ladders. In the days before the gallows, criminals were hung from the top rung of a ladder and their spirits were believed to linger underneath. Common folklore has it to be bad luck to walk beneath an open ladder and pass through the triangle of evil ghosts and spirits. Owls. In the Owl myth, it is believed that if an owl looks in your window or if you seeing one in the daylight bad luck and death will bestow you. But, Halloween wouldn't be Halloween without the witch flying on a broomstick. A witch uses the great power of their magic to keep them in the air. They cannot fly without a broom, as the broom itself was weaved with magic for the specific purpose of flying. Witches at one time were thought to be women, often herbal healers who lived without the support/protection of a husband (either widows, or spinsters). In the times that these ideas formed a woman was closely associated with various forms of housework (sweeping-therefore brooms became one of the symbols.). Even though these examples are some of the superstitions and bad luck omens, it seems our modern technology has created scarier examples that are stronger than the original Halloween symbols. Movies and some stories illustrate these scary themes.

Basically, Halloween is the last day of October, according to Christian tradition, the spirits of the dead return to where they lived and witches and demons become active. To celebrate, children dress up as witches, ghosts and devils. Is this celebration negative or positive? It can be either. From my observation, I have noticed that kids are dressing up as anything they like and the witches, ghosts and devils seem to be a minority choice. It is just fun to dress up. The celebration only lasts a few hours as the knocking on doors with the sound of "trick-or-treat" is for the one purpose of receiving treats. So to all our "little ones" who participate, may we all wish you a happy safe Halloween!

Expansion complete at Co-op cardlock

By VICKI BROOKER

Review Staff

St. Paul and District Co-op celebrated the completion of expansion of the very busy Elk Point cardlock facility last Tuesday, as management and staff served up breakfast sandwiches and coffee to between 125 and 150 patrons during the busiest hours of the morning.

"We very much appreciate everyone's patience, especially during the completion of the paving," said general manager Graham Getz. "It took a while."

The expansion included the addition of two islands with four fuel pumps and two satellites, another fuel storage tank and an oil and water separator for runoff that fits well with Co-op's commitment to environmental awareness. Still to be done is spreading another layer of gravel in the area surrounding the pavement.

This year, for the first time, Elk Point will be responsible for more fuel sales than St. Paul. Getz and petroleum manager Dwayne Odgaard said. "The commitment of our members really came through."

With plenty of space for easy access for big units and a very visible location, the cardlock is "a busy little centre," Elk Point branch manager Mark Gormley added.

His own department is also in the process of being enlarged and renovated and Getz was pleased to say that just under 30 per cent of the removed wood, metal and cladding removed in the process is being recycled, "which is usually more challenging to do in a rural setting."

He noted that St. Paul and District Co-op is "really upgrading our sites. It really shows the level of support we get. Without it, we wouldn't be able to do this." The first phase of the Elk Point food store upgrade is slated for completion in mid-November.
